Preamble

UNDP’s relationship with the Governments of programme countries is legally established and governed by the Standard Basic Assistance Agreement or predecessor agreement applicable to UNDP (SBAA).

UNDP projects with Government are either Direct Implementation Modality (DIM) or National Implementation Modality (NIM). DIM is the modality whereby UNDP takes on the role of the Implementing Partner (IP) and accordingly, UNDP must follow all policies and procedures established for its own operations. NIM is the modality where the government takes on the role of implementing partner and UNDP takes the role of the development partner.

The implementing partner has full programmatic control and so full accountability for and control over project activities.

The responsibility for the implementation of the NIM projects rests with the government, as reflected in the Standard Basic Assistance Agreement (SBAA) signed by UNDP with the government and with the “Implementing Partner” as agreed to in the Country Programme Action Plan (CPAP) or UNDAF Action Plan and in the respective Annual Work Plan (AWP).

1. Background

Egypt has been experiencing a severe economic downturn since 2011 and tourism and foreign direct investment have dropped sharply during the recent political transition. Being one of the main sources of hard currency, this drop has resulted in the depreciation of the Egyptian pound to a historic low. With Egypt’s heavy reliance on food and fuel imports, the drop of the Egyptian pound has increased the price of necessity products including bread (21.3%) and cereal (16.3%), which disproportionally affect the poor.

In the meantime, the number of people living below the national poverty line has doubled since 1996. The poverty rate has increased from 16.7% in 1996 to 26.3% in 2013 (CAPMAS 2014). In line with increasing poverty, the unemployment rate has also increased to reach 13.5% at the end of 2013. Youth bear an uneven share of the jobless rate constituting 70.8% of the unemployed.

Women’s participation in the economy has traditionally been low, being between 20 to 25 percent in the past 10 years and female unemployment at 24.1% was more than double the rate for men (9.3%) in 2012. People living with disabilities in Egypt, which compose up to some 10% of the population according to WHO measures, have been undertrained, unemployed or underemployed for their qualifications or trainings.

Confronted with such economic difficulties, there is a growing demand for strong governmental social protection policies. The new Constitution explicitly recognizes the ‘rights to social security’ for all and the government’s obligation to provide social protection. However, non-subsidy social protection programmes (e.g. cash transfers, micro-credits, health care, etc.) accounted for only 0.11% of GDP (World Bank 2012). This rate is far lower compared to investments for fuel (6%) and food (2%) subsidies and even compared to other countries in the Arab region. Furthermore, the World Bank (2012) estimates that only 15% of the poorest income quintile benefits from these non-subsidy social protection schemes. Therefore, there is a strong demand and necessity to restructure Egypt’s social protection policies to reach those that are most in need.

Evidence shows that social protection is crucial for inclusive development; therefore extending it is an urgent priority for Egypt’s post revolution transition. However, social protection has been constrained by poverty.

The Ministry of Social Solidarity (MoSS) – the primary government office mandated to provide social protection is exerting major efforts to upgrade its social protection systems and mechanisms. Since 2006, UNDP has been collaborating with MoSS to increase the efficiency of its social protection programmes by providing capacity building and technical support. This collaboration led to the restructuring of the social affairs sector at MoSS and improved service delivery of its various social protection programmes. This includes, capacity development of MoSS staff on social policies, introduction and adoption of global best practices for poverty alleviation, including Conditional Cash Transfers (CCTs) pilots and Productive Families Associations as well as a thorough assessment of the Nasser Social Bank.

Moreover, the project proposed a new organisational structure for the Ministry following the merger between the Ministry of Social Affairs and Ministry of Supply in 2005, which laid down the foundation for the development of an NGO accrediting system for the Ministry.¹ The achievements of the previous project will serve as a sound basis for this future partnership between MoSS and UNDP.

Therefore, UNDP will be able to build upon this partnership to further support MoSS in providing better social protection for the poorest population. This would include areas of social assistance, social services, social insurance, and social equity. Moreover, MoSS has been recently working to upgrade all their services in the area of social protection and has received support from the World Bank to launch Takaful and Karama, two important cash transfer programs. The UNDP project will also be working in close coordination and complimentarily with the these two programs.

Since 2008, UNDP has supported the government’s pilot programme on Conditional Cash Transfers (CCTs) and has recently launched an empirical study documenting the CCT pilot together with other social protection interventions in partnership with the Social Research Centre at AUC. UNDP has also partnered with the Information and Decision Support Center (IDSC) to map national social protection programmes and to strengthen the monitoring and evaluation (M&E) capacities of government officials and relevant stakeholders in the field of social policy.

Furthermore, UNDP in consultation with the government has identified ‘social justice’ as the next theme for its 2014 National Human Development Report (NHDR), which will provide an in-depth analysis on and recommendations for future social protection policies and programmes. UNDP will be able to draw on these various efforts to provide evidence based analysis and social policy recommendations to provide institutional support and strengthen the capacity of MoSS.

2. Project Vision

The time is now opportune to introduce and deepen initiatives related to social justice as this goes fully in line with the Country's new Constitution and with the Sustainable Development Strategy where social justice is highlighted as a main area of concern. The Social Justice programmes under this vision are multiple, however there are very specific and particular interventions that fall under MoSS leadership and the UNDP project will work to support the Ministry, in an efficient and timely manner, to ensure they are achieved. These MoSS specific programs include:

Egypt’s National priorities as indicated by the Government in its newly drafted Sustainable Development Strategy:

1. Increasing the social security pension by LE 1 billion to reach LE 3.3 billion for 2014/15 and the contribution in pension funds with LE 2.3 billion in the same year.
2. Launching a cash-transfer program and increase the number of beneficiaries from 1.5 million to 3 million poor families.
3. Launching a social protection-targeting program based on transforming all paper ration cards to smart cards.
4. Amending the Social Insurance Law to increase the early retirement pension starting July 2013. The law also provides self-employed social insurance to farmers with more than one feddan acquisitions.

5. Adopting some programs to protect the poor and to provide support and protection to the most vulnerable. Takaful and Karama are two programs that have been recently implemented as part of a conditional cash transfer program to help poor families in order to provide the health and educational services to children. The two programs are targeting the groups that do not have the ability to work and produce (65 years and above), or they have a total or partial disability, but on the condition which is that the family does not have a social security pension:
  o Takaful Program offers conditional cash transfer for families that suffer from extreme poverty and have children in school or children who need health care (1 day to 18 years old). Every family will have 325 LE as a monthly assistance, added to LE 60 for each student in primary school, LE 80 for each student in preparatory school and LE 100 for each student in high school.
  o Karama Program offers an unconditional and continuous cash transfer for those who suffer from extreme poverty and cannot work or produce. It includes the elderly people who do not have a fixed pension and who suffers from a total or partial disability. Each of the elderly people and the people living with disabilities (maximum 3 persons per family) will have LE 350 as continuous monthly assistance.

3. Project Objective and Components

The project aims to improve the delivery of social protection to the most vulnerable populations in Egypt by strengthening the social policy function, institutional set up, staff capacity to better engage with citizens and provide efficient and timely pro-poor services to the poor, women, youth and the people living with disabilities.

The project is planned to focus on the implementation of the following four components:

1. Establishing a technical unit within the Ministry to mainstream social policies across all line ministries

The unit will support the coordination of integrated social policies across all line ministries, especially that the Minister of Social Solidarity chairs the Social Inter-Ministerial Committee as well as the Arab Ministerial Committee for Social Affairs. The Unit will also be responsible to study and advise on pertinent social policies, work on developing and formulating thematic social protection/social care strategies, in line with requirements as per the articles of the Constitution which address social protection, poverty alleviation, disability legislation, social protection, etc. Moreover, the Unit will support the development of a National Social Policies Strategy, as well as provide inputs to the Social Justice Strategy. Most important, the unit will work with line ministries to ensure the adoption of the Social Justice Programmes outlined in the country’s Constitution and as per the Sustainable Development Strategy which firmly “realized the importance of adopting a comprehensive strategy to reduce poverty, and to pave the way for social justice.”

2. Enhancing the institutional capacities of MoSS to effectively deliver quality social protection services to the poor

The second component will address enhancing the institutional capacities of MoSS to effectively deliver quality social protection services to the poor. The project will therefore work to strengthen existing units to enhance service delivery, monitoring and evaluation, strengthen coordination, ensure gender mainstreaming, galvanize energy and strength of private sector and volunteers as well as improve the communication of results.

The established units that are planned to be strengthened include:

a. The Volunteer Unit of young women and men that will develop community monitoring of various social service facilities including the orphanages and senior care centres all over Egypt To meet MoSS’s objectives of promoting volunteerism and active participation within the community as well as supporting partnerships to improve the quality of social services.
The Unit includes a Community Observatory, which coordinates the youth and community volunteering activities to enable MoSS to use community resources to monitor service quality and delivery, improve internal management and to strengthen its engagement with various stakeholders.

b. The Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Unit that reinforces MoSS’s partnership with the private sector in the provision of social protection. There is increased interest and recognition of the role of the private sector to support and cooperate in providing social services and the unit will work to facilitate this engagement between the Ministry and the private sector.

c. The Complaints Office that acts as a focal point to receive feedback from social workers, volunteers and the general public on service quality and delivery through hotlines and social media tools (e.g. websites, Facebook, SMS, etc.).

d. The recently established Monitoring and Evaluations (M&E) Unit working to strengthen the internal capacity of M&E within MoSS in order to meet the principles of effective monitoring and evaluation such as ownership, stakeholder engagement, focus on results and focus on development effectiveness.²

e. The Communication Unit focusing on rebranding and repositioning MoSS through enhancing both internal and external communication within MoSS, across Ministries and with the general public through:

1. Improving external communication by developing a communication strategy for the Ministry to document and communicate results from all other units. The Strategy will support the rebranding and repositioning of MoSS as the key entity providing social assistance to the poorest, the people with disabilities. It will also ensure wider outreach with beneficiaries and target communities and strengthen engagement with the press, social media, TV and other media. It would require developing innovative communication products such as infographics, videos, applications to disseminate important information and key strategic messages regarding the ministry’s policies and programmes.

2. Improve internal communication within MoSS and across MoSS social units by developing some basic manuals on MoSS products, services and procedures while exploring new and innovative ways of communicating internally through the use of simplified infographics, simulation videos, website, and other mediums.

3. Strengthen horizontal communication across Ministries to ensure coordinated and harmonized messaging on its integrated social policies. This will support the Minister in functions related to both chairing the Inter-Ministerial Committee on Social Affairs as well as Chairing the Arab League Committee on Social Affairs.

f. Support to the Gender Unit to ensure that gender equality principals are mainstreamed across all programmes and interventions. MoSSThe project may also look at modernizing the exhibition facilities of the Productive Families income generating products to help market the products produced by the women beneficiaries.

3. Capacity Development of MoSS staff to deliver social protection services

The third component of the project focuses on the capacity building of MoSS staff and social workers directly working to deliver social protection programmes in the field and improving MoSS’s information and management systems.

Operating over 9,000 social workers in 2,432 social units, the capacity of staff and social workers of MoSS are at the centre of delivering quality social services. MoSS requires better trained and certified staff and social workers who understand social protection schemes and pro-poor policies.

The project will provide the following capacity development initiatives:

- Capacity building workshops and trainings for MoSS staff and social workers;
- Training tailored specifically to link with MoSS’s new programme priorities (i.e. Cash Transfers, CSR and Volunteerism, Street Children integration);
- Curriculum and manual development with proper accreditation and certification;
- Conduct transformative training to have MoSS staff adapt and serve quickly in new functions in response to the urgent priorities and needs of the Ministry.

Under supporting and upgrading MoSS information systems, the project will focus on the following priorities:

- Develop a disability database;
- Build an IT network between central and local level social units;
- Integrate IT solutions with the M&E systems;
- Maintain and update the Ministry’s website;
- Explore the use of mobile social units for enhanced service delivery;
- Explore IT solutions to support people living with disability;
- Upgrade some facilities in selected & key MoSS social units.

4. Upgrading MoSS capacities to deliver quality services to people living with disabilities

The fourth and last component will focus on upgrading the capacity of MoSS to provide new tools and equipment to deliver quality social services to people with disabilities.

Under this component the project will:

- Assess and reform services for people living with disability by establishing a task force or a committee to conduct a thorough review of all services.

- Upgrade the Rehabilitation Centre in MoSS by developing new training curricula and courses to provide relevant vocational training and soft skills based on ICT tools and infrastructure. This will include the rolling out the ILO practical guide on the Inclusion of People with Disabilities in Vocational Training in the various training centres operated by MoSS.

- Establish a youth telecenter in MoSS to support the development of e-content and other ICT platforms such as audio books for people with disabilities, in cooperation with the youth telecenter operated by MCIT;

- Explore the upgrading of centres for substituting artificial upper body parts for people living with disabilities by raising funding from private sector and other prominent NGOs;

- Distribute informative toolkits in an effort to promote dialogue and social awareness on the specific and immediate needs of people with disabilities including organizational leaders and community based NGOs. The project will also provide capacity building and educational workshops for the media in order to sensitize it and ensure that its coverage of the issues facing the people living with disabilities is balanced and appropriate;

- Establish a taskforce to develop the National Strategy and Action Plan for Persons with Disabilities in line with UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. This taskforce will conduct a detailed situation analysis and calculate costs and timeframes.
4. Gender Mainstreaming and Sensitization

Gender Strategy

It is understood that women and girls, especially the poor and people living with disabilities, face significantly more difficulties in the public and private spheres, placing them at higher risks of gender-based violence and sexual abuse and discrimination. The project will prioritize support to initiatives that are inclusive and that aspire to empower women, and promote gender equality. This will be achieved by ensuring gender mainstreaming and gender empowerment across all MoSS programmes and interventions, as well as internally within MoSS institutional units. Accordingly, the project will use both a gender and disability lens with the aim of understanding and addressing the specific concerns and needs of this group.

In accordance with UN General Assembly resolutions 63/150 and 64/131, the project will coordinate with the MoSS Gender Unit and with UN Women in the implementation of measures/programmes to ensure that women and girls with disabilities enjoy their full human rights and that they are enabled to participate both as agents and as beneficiaries of development. This will include the participation of persons with disabilities and women in consultations organized with registered national NGOs specialized in the area of disabilities affairs, as well as skill formation and capacity development activities. The project will ensure that the monitoring system and procedures for data collection and analysis are both gender and disability sensitive. Moreover, the project will seek to document the correlation or links between the MoSS intervention programmes and women empowerment, for example, capturing the impact of the MoSS cash transfer programs, namely Takaful and Karama, and their impact on women’s empowerment within their communities. The other element where women are involved is the Productive Families Exhibition that MoSS organizes. The project may look at these exhibitions and see how to upgrade and modernize such facilities.

6. Management Arrangements

The project will be nationally implemented by MoSS in accordance with the UNDP National Implementation (NIM) guidelines. UNDP NIM rules and regulations for recruitment, procurement, and award criteria will be followed for all project activities related to the contracting of services, supplies and grants. The management arrangements for this project are in line with the UNDP requirements as reflected in the UNDP User Guide (Programme Operations Policies and Procedures manual / POPP), are as follows:

Project Board: A Project Board will be established to take executive management decisions and to provide guidance to the National Project Director (NPD), including approval of workplans and budgets, as well as project revisions including extensions, allocation of resources, or cancellation of project activities should the necessary conditions for the implementation of the project not be met, without prejudice to the duties and obligations of project partners. The Project Board includes three distinct roles:

- An Executive role representing the project ownership to chair the Board: this function is filled by the Minister of Social Solidarity;
- A Senior Beneficiary representing the interests of those who will ultimately benefit from the project: this function within the Board is to ensure realization of project benefits from the perspective of project beneficiaries: the Ministries of Social Solidarity (as main recipient of technical assistance under this project), the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (as Government Co-operating Agency); and
- A Senior Supplier representing the parties which provide funding and/or technical expertise to the project to provide guidance regarding the technical feasibility of the project: this function is performed by UNDP as provider of both technical assistance and project management and implementation support services.

Collectively, the Project project ensures that the project is making progress towards intended outputs as per the Project Document and endorsed annual work plans. The Project Board is consulted by the NPD for decisions when NPD tolerances (i.e. constraints normally in terms of time and budget) have been exceeded. Project assurance reviews by this group are made at designated decision points during the running of the project, or as necessary when raised by the NPD.

The Project Board will meet annually (or more frequently if necessary). The organizational structure of the Project is as follows:
National Project Director: The National Project Director will be appointed by the Minister of Social Solidarity to build networks with stakeholders, beneficiaries and ensures the adequate integration of the project within the structure, programmes and workflows of MoSS. MoSS will have full authority to supervise the NPD, to monitor his/her work progress and to appraise his performance on yearly basis. The NPD is an official from MoSS and manages the project as per the approved annual workplans and has the authority to assign additional line managers and/or hire additional external capacities for the implementation of project activities. The NPD’s prime responsibility is to ensure that the project produces the results specified in the project document, to the required standard of quality and within the specified constraints of time and cost. The NPD coordinates the implementation of all project activities, developing action plans and reporting progress to the Project Board. The NPD is also responsible for regular progress reports, identifying bottlenecks and suggesting corrective measures when necessary.

Lastly, the Project National Project Director appoints as secretary ex officio for the Project Board, responsible for convening the meetings, preparing the agenda, overseeing preparation of materials for presentation to the meeting and for preparing and distributing minutes of the meetings. The NPD will also be responsible for monitoring and reporting on the project as per UNDP National Implementation Modality (NIM) guidelines. The performance of the NPD is closely monitored by the Minister to ensure the project is achieving its said targets.

A Project Management Unit (Project Support), composed of project personnel based, on needs identified by the Ministry, will be set-up to support the NPD carrying out project activities and ensure project results. It is imperative that any project personnel hired needs to work in close consultation and cooperation with the existing Ministry staff to ensure knowledge transfer and full coordination with government employees.

Project Assurance: The role of Project Assurance is to support the Project Board by carrying out objective and independent project oversight and monitoring functions. It is the responsibility of each Project Board member, but the role can be delegated, typically to the UNDP Programme Office assigned to the project. The role of the Project Assurance ensures appropriate project management milestones are managed and completed. UNDP is responsible for designating a person to provide this oversight, which is mandatory for all projects. As part of its delegated project assurance role, UNDP commits to undertake the following activities to support the Project Board:

- Ensure that a Project Board meeting is held at least once a year;
- Perform regular monitoring activities, such as periodic field monitoring visits and “spot checks”;
- Ensure that resources entrusted to UNDP are utilized according to UNDP rules and procedures as per the Programme Operations, Policy and Procedures manual (POPP);
- Ensure that critical project information is monitored and updated in Atlas;
- Follow up with the Project Team to ensure that financial and quarterly progress reports are submitted to UNDP on time, and that combined delivery reports are prepared and submitted to the Project Board, to be signed by the national Implemented Partner;
- Ensure the preparations of all project budget revisions to be signed by the project signatories;
- Ensure that annual audits and mid-term or final project evaluations are carried out as per standard procedures;
- Ensure coordination with other UNDP projects i.e. ICT Trust Fund and the Egyptian Corporate Responsibility Centre Project (in the area of CSR);
- Ensure coordination with other sister UN Agencies working under the same thematic area; and
- Work closely with guidance from the Implementing Partner and/or Government Co-operating Agency on who to approach from the Development Partners’ Group as new partners to the project and support with resource mobilization.
Project Support: MoSS will provide the requisite administrative (secretarial, filing, transactional...) and office space support required for the implementation of project activities. UNDP and MoSS will provide the necessary resources to hire the required expertise, to be selected jointly.

8. Audit

The contribution shall be subject exclusively to the internal and external auditing procedures provided for in the financial regulations, rules and directives of UNDP governing National Implementation Modality (NIM).

Audit is an integral part of sound financial and administrative management, and part of the UNDP accountability system. UNDP financial statements are audited annually by the United Nations Board of Auditors (UNBOA) and the findings are reported to the UNDP Executive Board and the General Assembly annually. In expressing its opinion on UNDP financial statements, the Board of Auditors refers to the outcome of the audits of projects (or annual work plans under the harmonized programming arrangements; see Programme and Project Management chapter) that are nationally implemented by Government or non-governmental organizations. Consequently, delays in the completion of audits of projects nationally-implemented by Government or non-governmental organizations or qualified opinions expressed by the auditors have a direct impact on the opinion expressed by the Board of Auditors on UNDP financial statements.

Under NIM, projects nationally implemented by government or non-governmental organizations are audited by an external and independent audit firm contracted to for this purpose through a competitive request for proposal and procurement process, unless the national Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) has a demonstrated capacity to carry out the audits in an independent manner, as a result of a documented capacity assessment of this institution undertaken prior to the start of the project and its outcome was satisfactory based on UNDP procedures.

In accordance with the programming policies and procedures outlined in the UNDP User Guide, the project will be monitored through the following:

Within the Annual cycle

- On bi-annual basis, a quality assessment shall record progress towards the completion of key results, based on quality criteria and methods captured in UNDP Quality Management tables (to be completed following the signing of the project document);
- An Issue Log shall be activated in Atlas and updated by the Project Manager to facilitate tracking and resolution of potential problems or requests for change;
- Based on the initial risk analysis submitted, a risk log shall be activated in Atlas and regularly updated by reviewing the external environment that may affect the project implementation;
- Based on the above information recorded in Atlas, a Bi-annual Progress Reports (BPR) shall be submitted by the Project Manager to the Project Board through Project Assurance, using the standard report format available in the Executive Snapshot;
- A project Lesson-learned log shall be activated and regularly updated to ensure on-going learning and adaptation within the organization, and to facilitate the preparation of the Lessons-learned Report at the end of the project; and
- A Monitoring Schedule Plan shall be activated in Atlas and updated to track key management actions/events.

Annually

- Annual Review Report - An Annual Review Report shall be prepared by the Project Manager and shared with the Project Board and the Outcome Board. As a minimum requirement, the Annual Review Report shall consist of the Atlas standard format for the bi-annual report covering the whole year with updated information for each above element of the bi-annual report as well as a summary of results achieved against pre-defined annual targets at the output level;
- Annual Project Review - Based on the above report, an annual project review shall be conducted during the fourth quarter of the year or soon after, to assess the performance of the project and appraise the Annual Work Plan (AWP) for the following year. In the last year, this review will be a final assessment. This review is driven by the Project Board and may involve other stakeholders as required. It shall focus on the extent to which progress is being made towards outputs, and that these remain aligned to appropriate outcomes;
- A Final Project Review shall be conducted during the fourth quarter of the last year of the project by the Project Board as basis for assessing performance, contribution to related outcomes, and determining lessons for broader application. Using the final Project Review Report, the Lessons Learned Report and other documentation as appropriate, the Project Board should assess in this meeting the performance and success of the project, and its contribution to related outcomes; and
- Final Evaluation - The project will be evaluated in accordance to UNDP Rules and Regulations and as per the agreement of parties at Project Board Meeting.

Monitoring and Evaluation Resources

Appropriate financial resources must be allocated to ensure that the above proper project monitoring and review/evaluation is carried out.
10. Risk Log

Financial risk: If further resources are not mobilized, to mitigate the risk the project will prioritize the most important activities for the Ministry during 2015.

Operational risk: MoSS staff capacity development will take time, this may have direct impact on timely delivery of social services. To mitigate the risk, the project will prioritize some important and urgent training needs and may in some instances to rely on some external expertise to be able to provide timely and quick support.
