2. INTRODUCTION

Even though classified as 'newly recovered' or 'liberated' areas numerous communities in Somalia continue to experience a lack of authoritative government structures, sporadic armed conflict, low levels of economic recovery and endemic humanitarian needs. Many have been profoundly affected by recurrent droughts and have been struggling with the additional burdens of damaged livelihood assets and high levels of household displacement. The vulnerability of these communities is being compounded by a soaring youth unemployment rate of 19.5% (ILO, 2018) and demographic pressures caused inter alia by a burgeoning youth population of 47%, (UN DESA, 2017) and the expected return of Somali refugees from Kenya and Yemen.

The project was developed in response to the challenges faced by Somali youth by strengthening community stabilization and resilience in two selected NRAs, Kismayo and Baidoa. The project combined successful elements of past and on-going UNDP projects aimed at social reconciliation, community stabilization and youth employment.

These include social and civic rehabilitation in order to socially and economically empower youth, and increase income generating activities,

In particular, the project built on and carried forward achievements and lessons learned from the 'Youth for Change' project which was generously supported by the Government of Japan through its supplementary budget in the period 2011-15.

Key achievements under the "Community Stabilization through the Socio-economic Integration of Vulnerable Youth" project include the provision of social rehabilitation support and employment skills to vulnerable youth (IDPs, refugees, ex-offenders, and youth at risk of engaging in illicit activities such as piracy and terrorism). This is considered an important intervention to expedite the re-integration of the affected youth into Kismayo and Baidoa, thus promoting community stabilization.

The overall goal of the project was to expedite community stabilization and sustainable recovery. The specific outputs were:

• 300 youth at risk (including IDPs, refugees and ex-offenders) provided with social rehabilitation support, market-based vocational training and education and / or basic business skills (approximately 150 in each location (Kismayo, Baidoa).

3. Project Progress

The agreement between the Government of Japan and UNDP was signed in April 2016, and the Programme was granted a 9-month cost extension until 30 April 2018. Over the implementation period, UNDP has assisted the FGS in reaching most of the targets under the agreement with the Government of Japan.

Output 1: 300 youth at risk (including IDPs, refugees and ex-offenders) provided with social rehabilitation support.

1.1 Social Rehabilitation

The social rehabilitation component of the project ensured that youth acquired social and civic skills that supported them to become active community members and engage in state building and peacebuilding initiatives in Kismayo and Baidoa.

The community and youth partnership was strengthened as evidenced by the commitment of the youth in participating in the social rehabilitation activities. The youth participated in courses that were complemented with trauma healing, arts, drama, sports, Islamic education, and community volunteer activities. The social rehabilitation classes were implemented over a six-months period.

During the project implementation period an extensive orientation was conducted for all project staff to familiarize them with the overall scope and structure of the project as well as specific project interventions. In the first phase of the project implementation, communities in Kismayo and Baidoa were engaged to ensure that there is a thorough understanding of the project objectives and targeted groups in order to facilitate outreach and identification, and manage community expectations.

As of April 30, 300 youth had taken social rehabilitation courses related to i) artisan courses: electrician, ICT/computer, dressmaking/tailoring, Carpentry/woodwork, and Beauty salon.

1.2 ECONOMIC INTEGRATION

Economic integration components incorporated in the project have also significantly increased the youth's prospects of obtaining sustainable employment, thus contributing to poverty reduction and increased community resilience.

During the project implementation period the roll-out of a variety of courses on rule of law, social skills, leadership and youth empowerment, as well as activities, including peace building and social reintegration activities was completed. This was a pre-requisite for the implementation of economic integration support activities. A total of 130 youth in Kismayo and 110 youth in Baidoa who had already graduated were given the opportunity to participate in cash for work initiatives, market-based vocational education and training, and basic business skills training.

Activities implemented under the project resulted in the rehabilitation of three infrastructure and community assets through cash for work. Investments in the rehabilitation of critical productive and community assets provided short-term employment opportunities for youth beneficiaries, as well as tangible improvements in the quality of local services and increased local productivity.

OUTPUT 1: YOUTH AT RISK PROVIDED WITH SOCIAL REHABILITATION SUPPORT, MARKET-BASED VOCATIONAL TRAINING AND EDUCATION AND/OR BASIC BUSINESS SKILLS – 300 YOUNG ADULTS (150 IN EACH LOCATION)

Narrative update on Progress towards Output

During the reporting period, two new local NGO partners were selected after the suspension of the previously engaged NGOs, CERPA and HOPEL (further explanation provided under paragraph 8: Challenges). Warsheikh Rural development (WARDO) based in Baidoa and Human Development Concern (HDC) which operates in Kismayo were selected through a competitive procurement process and they started mobilizing teams to start project activities in both Baidoa and Kismayo once contracted. Re-establishing the relationship with targeted beneficiaries was carried out in a participatory manner, focusing preliminary on previously selected beneficiaries and community elders. Local authorities and state administrations were consulted throughout to ensure building on advances made in social rehabilitation and economic reintegration.

5. OUTPUT 2 - FOUR COMMUNITY AND / OR PRODUCTIVE ASSETS REHABILITATED (two in each location)

Narrative update on Progress towards Output

After competitive contracting processes were carried out and contracts were finalized, the bill of Quantities (BoQs) and engineering designs for the selected community productive assets were prepared. Four local partners were selected to undertake community asset rehabilitation. After completion of the rehabilitation, UNDP project teams held meetings with community members, state administration and district authorities to come up with management arrangements for the selected productive infrastructure to operate, maintain them for the benefit of the local communities in both locations.

7. CROSS-CUTTING ISSUES (GENDER, HIV/AIDS, PEACE AND CONFLICT, HUMAN RIGHTS)

The project encouraged the participation of women and girls and targeted at least 40% women direct beneficiaries in order to increase women's access to employment and other opportunities unleashing the full potential of the community. In general, the project gave due consideration to all vulnerable groups including minorities, women, people living with HIV/AIDS, Internally Displaced People (IDPs) and people with disabilities. Supporting vulnerable groups will have significant impact on the society as a whole and it is a live transforming intervention for the direct and indirect beneficiaries of the project.

8. CHALLENGES / LESSONS LEARNT

During the reporting period, following monitoring of project implementation, the misuse of funds by the local partners was discovered. UNDP subsequently sent an independent third-party monitoring to evaluate these findings. This resulted in the confirmation that funds were indeed misappropriated. UNDP informed the Office of Internal Audit who came to Mogadishu to initiate an official investigation. As a result, it was concluded that the allegations were of true nature, and the local partners removed from any further engagement in the project activities.

The project faced delays following the suspension of the two previously engaged local NGOs, (CERPA and HOPEL) and due to the need to recruit new local partners to continue the implementation of the project activities. The start of the new phase of project implementation faced additional delays related to a variety of factors. The previous project implementors disputed fund misappropriation findings, and newly elected local authorities in Kismayo and Baidoa had limited knowledge and capacity to support the project. As a result, it was essential to empower them to be able to support and contribute to the project activities. Subsequently, the local government collaborated, and supported project staff to focus on the preparations of the new project phase. Given those challenges, a six-months extension to the project was requested and agreed between the partners.

Out of the four community asset infrastructures that were identified to be rehabilitated, only three were completed, thus, the fourth community asset rehabilitation was delayed as it was occupied by Internally displaced people and the local government took long time to relocate them. As the matter of relocating IDP's is a sensitivity issue and without concrete action by the regional government the project was not able to implement the planned activity. Thus, the reason why there is the balance which is approximate to the amount allocated to the activity that was not implemented.

To mitigate risk partners from implementing UNDP projects and such incident recurring, UNDP will continue strengthening the risk mitigation measures and capacity assessments by conducting trainings for the partners about rules and regulation on fraud and corruption. Risk mitigation plans are required to be in place, which includes and not limited to, prequalifying NGO partners by assessing their financial management capacity, and ability to implement project activities responsibly, furthermore, additional mitigation measures was put in place, such as disbursing very small advance installments to the partner, more frequent spot checks are done, close and frequent programmatic and Third Party monitoring is done.

9. COMMUNICATIONS AND VISIBILITY

The project particularly focused on providing visibility through the implementing partners, through social media using Facebook and Twitter.

10. MONITORING AND OVERSIGHT ACTIVITIES

Missions have been conducted in the target locations by the project team, in addition to several monitoring activities. Monitoring activities were conducted bi- monthly to ensure the unfortunate misuse of funds does not get repeated.
