

Project Title: [IPSTC] Capacity Building for Maritime Disaster Management and Response to Peace and Security threats within Kenya

Project Number: 00125335

Implementing Partner: International Peace Support and Training Centre (IPSTC)

Brief Description

Kenya is faced with an increasing number of threats and disasters which have undermined her socio-economic growth and led to significant loss of life and property. In 2019 alone, more than 2.89 million people in Kenya were affected by various disasters. Kenya’s maritime domain, which the country plans to utilize to leverage the ‘blue economy, remains highly vulnerable to disasters, which may reverse the gains in the sector. The country, in collaboration with partners including Government of Japan, co-hosted a side event on blue economy during TICAD 7, in August 2019. This demonstrates the serious efforts Kenya is putting in developing the blue economy and maritime sectors. Further, the country continues to face community conflicts and terrorism-related violence which resulted in the loss of 134 lives and loss of property/livelihoods in 2019. According to findings from a research conducted by IPSTC in 2018, the coastal counties are exposed to multiple hazards including ferry and boats accidents, oil and chemical spills, coastal storm surges, tsunami risk and terrorism¹. Proximity to Somalia contributes to increased threat in the maritime domain and along the Kenya’s Coastal Counties. Emerging threats in the maritime domain including risk of acts of terrorism, piracy and radicalization remain difficult to predict thus require preventive measures.

The project will contribute to national priorities on maritime disasters and security, and conflict prevention, while at the same time addressing key government of Kenya priorities of maritime disasters and security, peace keeping and peace building, and support to nation building and institution strengthening. These priorities are also in line with the focus areas of the Japan Supplementary Budget. The project will also enhance peace, security and recovery efforts through stabilization of vulnerable communities and related resources.
