Brief Description

The project is designed to support the attainment of the "Political parties with clear ideologies and functioning internal democracy". It aims at strengthening political parties to effectively participate in Malawi's multi-party democracy, integrating women and youth groups in political parties' structures and dialogue. It will support the emergence of issues-based debate among political parties by improving their capacities in policy development and supporting the conduct of political debates in preparation for the 2014 national elections. The project will also promote intra-party democracy by supporting the review and revision of key building blocks of political parties including parties' constitutions to integrate women, youth, and other marginalised groups in party structures, as well as provide training for relevant party members/ staff. Furthermore, the project will strengthen the existing inter-party
