I. DEVELOPMENT CHALLENGE

Uganda has been ushered into a new era of development as it strives to transition from a peasant society to a middle-income country by 2040 using comprehensive national development planning as the vehicles to drive the vision. The next generation of the National Development Plan for 2016-2020 (NDP II) aims to contribute to this vision by prioritizing investments in agriculture, tourism, mineral development, infrastructure and human capital, with governance as the backbone.

Investment in these areas will follow the entire value chains, while maximizing sectoral linkages and increasing efficiency in resource use. It is envisaged that by 2040 the country will be propelled from a predominantly low income to an upper middle income status with a per capita income of $9,500.

The country's thrust for transition has also been manifested in its leadership of the post-2015 Development Agenda processes, eventual adoption and early mainstreaming of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) at the national level. This is expected to propel its drive to the middle-income status.

While the country's comprehensive development planning framework is robust, achievement of its development aspiration is constrained by several challenges, such as inequitable distribution of wealth, significant regional disparities, and unsustainable population growth. These are compounded by weak capacity for evidence-based planning and implementation, institutional capacity gaps for policy management and weak oversight of overseas development assistance (ODA) and other national financial resources.

Uganda's performance in reducing poverty has been impressive, having met the first Millennium Development Goals (MDG) target to halve poverty in 2010, five years ahead of the deadline. The Country achieved a 65 percent reduction in poverty between 1992 and 2012 at an annualized reduction rate of 3.3 percent. Despite this progress the country persistently remained in the low human development category with indicators below the Least Developed Country (LDC) and the sub-Saharan Africa averages. Poverty has continued to concentrate in rural areas, at 13 percentage points above the averages for urban areas. Regional economic disparities arise mostly from unevenly distributed socio-economic infrastructure such as road networks, good access to markets, health and educational facilities and private sector investments. In addition, 43% of the non-poor are likely to fall back in poverty, manifesting the severity of vulnerability. With 78% of the population below 30 years, Uganda has one of the youngest population in the world. Unfortunately, youth unemployment stands at 78% as most graduates cannot find meaningful work. The high youth unemployment poses a social and economic threat to Uganda's sustainable development. These challenges call for more efficiency and effectiveness in policies, plans and programmes to achieve sustainable and inclusive poverty reduction.

While the country has made headway in development planning, there still exist significant gaps in design and implementation of development policies, strategies and plans in some of the key sectors. In some cases, the policy development process is neither adequately informed by evidence nor shaped by deliberate, regular and well-structured spaces for dialogue.

While national commitment toward the implementation of the 2030 Agenda is commendable, there are still significant gaps; in alignment of plans, policies, programmes at all levels; readiness of the institutional architecture and action for statistics, including big data to facilitate monitoring and reporting on progress; access, optimal allocation and tracking of usage and impact of national financial resources and, advocacy and implementation at all levels including the community.

This project¹ seeks to complement the two UNDP portfolios of Sustainable and Inclusive Economic Development, and Inclusive and Effective Governance by enhancing upstream policy support including mainstreaming Agenda 2030; ensure direct support services to the implementation of the UNDP Country Programme Document 2016-2020; and support to enhanced ODA impact through tracking, monitoring and evaluation capacities to the Government of Uganda. It envisages that establishing a strong evidence base for design and implementation of government policies and programmes; coupled with capacity building for relevant institutions to plan, implement and monitor public policies and programmes, as well as targeted support to the institutional readiness to implement the 2030 agenda will foster inclusive transition to a middle-income status.

II. STRATEGY

The premise on which this project stands is grounded on the theory that a solid evidence and well-resourced base in the design of policies and programs can lead to effective and efficient interventions for socio-economic transformation.

In this regards, UNDP will provide technical and financial support to relevant partners to carry out priority research and analytical work on topical issues within the realm of the 2030 Agenda and UNDP's institutional mandate. This research will be reflected in high quality policy papers, selected national reports, issues papers and policy briefs and notes that will be repackaged in such a way that they communicate and are accessible to the widest possible audience. They will be available to policy makers so that the information and findings can readily be applied for policy and decision-making. The project will also support the production of UNDP's mandatory and flagship reports, such as the National SDG progress reports and National Human Development Reports (NHDRs), in addition to supporting publication of GoU fund-utilisation reports, such as the Annual Off-Budget Report as well as other reports such as the Uganda Poverty Assessment Report. To draw on experiences from within and beyond the region, emphasis will be placed on twining local and international research consultants and organizations. This project will also build strong partnerships among government institutions, academia, private sector, civil society and UN agencies, based on the development issues at hand. In support to ODA oversight, the project will evaluate the impact of capacity gaps addressed through the capacity needs assessment carried out within the MoFPED, DARC department in the 2010-2015 programming cycle, and map out and implement the recommended next steps and support the regular monitoring and recording of budget allocation/distribution of ODA and impact of ODA support on planned Government development objectives.

The project will also support a platform where all participants in the policy-making process – policy makers, policy analysts, planners and other stakeholders – can engage in dialogue around specific topical issues on sustainable development, in addition to round table and briefing meetings. This will build on the momentum established during the 2010-2015 UNDP programme cycle. Where relevant, these will be supported by international expert keynote speakers, as well as discussants. The possibility of organizing local and international conferences on evidence-based socioeconomic research in collaboration with the academia on topical issues, such as development effectiveness, financing development based on Addis Ababa Action Agenda (AAA), debt management and effective domestic resource management. To complement these platforms, UNDP will host quarterly breakfast meetings, targeting a few selected experts on specific development issues. During these meetings, internal UNDP policy notes and briefs, as well as research findings and diagnostics will be deliberated upon. This is intended to address, especially, issues that evolve quickly within the political, social and economic space that may not otherwise be optimally addressed at wider annual dialogues.

The capacity for planning, implementation and monitoring public policies and programmes will be enhanced through four main interventions. First, UNDP will strengthen its partnership with sister UN agencies such as the United Nations Department for Economic and Social Affairs (UNDESA) and United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA) to model policies for sustainable development and document best practices. Building on the national thrust to achieve the SDGs, emphasis will be on establishing a training programme that will equip a pool of experts especially from government and academia to establish models that will attract interventions in a mix of sectors to; identify SDGs with stronger multiplier effect; and optimise delivery on these SDGs and priorities of NDPII. Second, UNDP will continue to provide technical and financial support to government to prepare and review key plans and programmes that will enable it attain Vision 2040. These plans include, but are not limited to: mid-term review of the NDPII, preparation of NDPIII (2020/21-2024/25), and revision of the national plan for industrialisation. Third, given its role as a coordinator of the UN system at the country level, UNDP's support to the domestication, monitoring, evaluation, reporting and resource mobilisation for SDG is pivotal. To this end, UNDP will sustain efforts to prioritize and mainstream SDGs, at the national, sectoral and sub national levels; build capacity for identification of, and monitoring progress on indicators; strengthen coordination structures for delivery on SDGs; facilitate national reporting on progress; and not least of all, supporting the government to mobilise resources to implement the 2030 Agenda. Fourth, the above efforts will be catalysed by support to staff of UNDP, state and non-state actors, to engage in regional and international fora on issues relevant to national development.

In addition, to ensure sustainability of results and enhance the implementation of the CPD, the project will serve as the repository for the earnings from direct project costing collected from projects. This will allow effective and efficient implementation of CPD interventions including: payment accuracy, timely and accountable cost-shared expenditures incurred during supporting UNDP projects and programme execution. Robust support to the implementation of the CPD will assure delivery of Uganda's Post-2015 development agenda within the framework of the UNDAF and the CPD 2016-2020. To ensure effective programme implementation, regular appraisal and refreshing of UNDP staff and partner project management skills will continue through regular orientation and training opportunities. Progress of project and programme implementation will be maintained through regular monitoring and evaluation, programme audits and maintenance of corporate programming requirement indicators. Timely and consistent recording of the achievements of the CPD objectives using the country office Communications Strategy will allow for systematic documentation and subsequent reflection of achievements, success stories and lessons learned in programming. This will be maintained through regular publications of advocacy materials, programme progress/results, hence, creation of UNDP visibility.

Overall, this project will be critical in informing policies that promote inclusive growth, human development, and SDG attainment.

III. RESULTS AND PARTNERSHIPS

Expected Results

This project is designed to contribute to the achievement of UNDP CPD Outcome 1.3: “By the end of 2020, targeted public institutions and Public-Private Partnerships are fully functional at all levels, inclusive, resourced, performance-oriented, innovative and evidence-seeking supported by a strategic evaluation function; and with Uganda’s population enforcing a culture of mutual accountability, transparency and integrity”. More specifically covering the following key outputs:

Output 1: Enhanced programme cost recovery and/or direct project costing resulting from support services to the implementation of the UNDP Country Programme through:

- (a) 64398 – Direct Project Costs – Staffing
- (b) 74598 – Direct Project Costs – General Operating Expenses (GOE)

Output 2: Improved Effectiveness of development cooperation, and Country Program implementation: Includes efficient and effective implementation of the UNDP CPD resulting in fully implemented, result-oriented and well documented country programme using the Country Office Communication Strategy. In addition, there will be enhancement of capacities of the MoFPED/DARC department and other relevant partners on targeted areas relating to ODA oversight and coordination.

Output 3: Enhanced SDG Implementation through Policy Innovation and effective Planning. This among others will include building a strong evidence base for design and implementation of government policies and programmes through, in part: publication of knowledge products on sustainable development; establishment of and strengthening spaces for dialogue on pertinent development issues; actual support to policy development; and support to generation and dissemination of timely and accurate data relating to ODA.

Resources Required to Achieve the Expected Results

- Cost shared resources will be obtained through fundraising initiatives as detailed in the resource mobilisation strategy to co-fund activities supported through core UNDP financial resources.
- Technical support will be sought both internally from other UNDP country offices, regional bureaus and headquarters as deemed necessary and viable. Consultants (both individuals and firms) will also be engaged as required.
- Sustainability of effective support of CPD implementation will be cost-shared by active projects.

Partnerships

- The project will work closely with government agencies including but not limited to: the Office of the Prime Minister (OPM) which is responsible for coordination, monitoring and evaluation of all government programmes; the Ministry of Finance Planning and Economic Development (MoFPED) that co-ordinates development policy management, mobilises, tracks and ensures effective accountability for the use of public resources; the National Planning Authority (NPA), which is responsible for formulating and monitoring the implementation of the NDP; the Economic Policy Research Centre (EPRC) an institution established to provide analytical backstopping for policy dialogue, formulation, implementation, and M&E in the country; the Uganda Bureau of Statistics (UBOS), an independent body for collection and analysis of data and line Ministry Policy Analysis Units, relevant for different lines of research work undertaken as part of the project. The partnership between UNDP and these other stakeholders will be critical for the generation of synergies and the coordination of complementarities in areas of common interest, therefore, avoiding duplicating of efforts and maximising efficiency and effectiveness of government activities in this area.
- The project will seek to involve CSOs in project activities wherever pertinent, as a way of seeking collaboration in areas of research, advocacy and policy influence, and feeding project-related engagements into the public development agenda.

- The project will also work closely with other development partners that are supporting efforts in Uganda to promote sustainable development through upstream support to the government. The project will also involve, whenever pertinent the Development Partners' Development Economics Group (DEG), and the Local Development Partners Group (LDPG) as well as other UN agencies.
- Collaboration and close coordination with country office pillar teams is also imperative since the project's expected products are derived from their needs, and must correlate with their objective results.

Risks

Table 1: Risks and Mitigations

Possible Risks	Mitigation
A. Inadequate number of staff from participating MDAs and CSOs to timely implement the programme activities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Establish strategic collaborations between programme partners to augment their capacities UNDP in collaboration with the partners recruit additional staff to support programme implementation
B. Political activities interrupting programme implementation especially	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Effective mobilisation of all key programme stakeholders, including beneficiaries, to remain politically neutral
C. Stringent legal and administrative procedures likely to limit the participation of some partners	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Effective mobilisation of top-level political and administrative support coupled with an effective publicity and communication strategies about all programme activities

Assumptions

- Government of Uganda guarantees strong political will and commitment towards enhanced and sustained good governance
- UNDP will provide quality up-stream capacity development support for strengthened national capacities fully in line with national priorities
- IP and RPs are committed to implementation of the programme in line with UNDP guidelines

Stakeholder Engagement

Institutions that are expected to benefit directly in the activities of the project are UNDP implementing partners and responsible parties such as MOFPED, EPRC, NPA, line ministry Policy Analysis Units, UBOS, Academic institutions, private sector, partners involved in policy making and implementation in Uganda, such as Parliament and CSOs. The public will benefit in two ways: through its greater engagement and participation in national policy dialogue. More generally, as ultimate beneficiaries of government policies and programmes, which the project aims to ensure are based on sound, evidence-based and policy relevant analysis and research. The primary beneficiaries are the citizens of Uganda who will enjoy the increased effectiveness and efficiency in public service delivery as a result of enhanced accountability and transparency in public sector management. Specifically, women and youths will benefit through their increased participation in decision making at different government levels. Selected MDAs and CSOs, as IPs and RPs will also benefit from the interventions particularly with regards to improved internal institutional capacity performance and credibility.

South-South and Triangular Cooperation (SSC/TrC)

Partnerships with the international and regional community will be established for activities that promote knowledge transfer and sharing in relevant areas with researchers, policy informants and decision makers from other countries in the region and elsewhere. In particular, the project will seek to promote south-to-south cooperation, a core element of UNDP's global corporate mandate, aiming at strengthening or establishing close ties with other policy research and analysis institutions in the South, to share experiences and to address issues that are of a concern to the global South. Benchmarking and study visits to model countries with effective institutions in delivering services will be explored.

Knowledge

In collaboration with partners, the project will strive to produce policy papers, selected national reports, issue papers and policy briefs and notes for public use, dialogues, as well as to inform national and sectoral planning.

In addition, UNDP will produce Op-eds, newsletters, corporate brochures, banners and other publicity documents on a regular basis informing the public on UNDP work under the C4D. This will be complemented with social media postings, documentaries and video blogs.

Sustainability and Scaling Up

Programme interventions will be integrated in MDA/LG development plans and budgets to ensure sustainability. In addition, UNDP will follow a stepwise approach exit approach that is, initially from down-stream support to upstream support (evidence based policy making by 2020).

The scaling up effects include policy reforms and capacity-building of institutions, where these changes would lead to a reasonably high probability of yielding a large-scale of benefits for all citizens of Uganda. It will also include upscale innovations in harmonizing information management systems among key normative institutions especially OPM, MoFPED and NPA.

Communication Strategy

The project will adopt a Communication for Development (C4D) approach, which consists of using a two-way and horizontal communication approach to enhance sustainable development. Technical, operational and catalytic funding support will be provided to targeted partners to develop communication strategies and tools that are tailored to targeted communities' beliefs and values, as well as the social and cultural norms that shape the lives of their people, with the ultimate goal to: (i) amplify the voices of the people, particularly women, youth and other traditionally marginalized groups; (ii) facilitate their meaningful participation in policy debates; (iii) promote changes at different levels of the society including in terms of listening, building trust, sharing knowledge and skills, debating, learning and influencing national policies. For achieving the above objectives, responsible MDAs and partners will be supported technically, technologically, operationally and financially in their efforts to promote and strengthen people-centered communication channels – e.g. public hearings; public debates; public deliberations and stakeholder consultations; participatory radio and television programmes; community-based theatre and storytelling; social media; and web forums.

IV. PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Cost Efficiency and Effectiveness

Using the theory of change analysis, the optimal pathway to achieve the intended results is the step wise approach of addressing the bottlenecks hampering institutional efficiency and effectiveness. This is due to the interconnectedness and self-reinforcing nature of the bottlenecks. Thus, addressing gaps in the regulatory framework will enhance the implementation of policies, which will in turn stimulate institutional performance.

The project recognises the need to effectively partner with the private sector as well as civil society to complement government processes and fast track resource delivery hence maximizing the results. This is supported by the evidence from the CPAP (2010-2015) evaluation, which pointed out the slow implementation of planned interventions by government institutions, leading to low resource delivery. The project design is based on a portfolio approach to improve the cost efficiency and effectiveness through leveraging activities and partnership with other projects in the 2 portfolios of governance and Sustainable Inclusive Effectiveness and development.

Project Management

Generally, the Project will have a national coverage, and focus will be on the selected MDAs and CSOs. Since it heavily has a direct project costing component aggregating all UNDP projects, it will be executed as a Direct Implementation Modality (DIM) by UNDP Uganda Country Office. Its execution is the responsibility of the UNDP Resident Representative and a designated team with specific responsibility assigned to a Project Manager. The overall execution of the project will be coordinated by UNDP in partnership with MoFPED and other target partners from Government and private sector purposely selected for their technical / operational mandate. UNDP will act as Fund Manager coordinating project management and funding as elaborated in the work programme and budget to be prepared by the Project Manager. The project will be reviewed quarterly/annually as well as audited (management audit) to inform decision making processes.

- ¹ UNDP publishes its project information (Indicators, baselines, targets and results) to meet the International Aid Transparency Initiative (IATI) standards. Make sure that indicators are specific, measurable, attainable, relevant and time-bound, provide accurate baselines and targets underpinned by reliable evidence and data, and avoid acronyms so that external audience clearly understand the results of the project.

VI. MONITORING AND EVALUATION

In accordance with UNDP's programming policies and procedures, the project will be monitored through the following monitoring and evaluation plans: [Note: monitoring and evaluation plans should be adapted to project context, as needed]

All anticipated programmatic and operational costs to support the project, including development effectiveness and implementation support arrangements, need to be identified, estimated and fully costed in the reporting, management, etc. All services which are directly related to the project need to be disclosed transparently in the project document.

- Cost definitions and classifications for programme effectiveness costs to be charged to the project are defined in the Executive Board decision DP/2010/32
- Changes to a project budget affecting the scope (outputs), completion date, or total estimated project costs require a formal budget revision that must be signed by the project board. In other cases, the UNDP programme manager alone may sign the revision provided the other signatories have no objection. This procedure may be applied for example when the purpose of the revision is only to re-phase activities among years.

QUESTION 1: How Does the Project Integrate Overarching Principles in order to Strengthen Social and Environmental Sustainability?	Briefly describe below how the Project maintains the human-rights based approach
Project preparation process involved consultation with Human Rights Experts from UN and Government departments. As part of design, the project has identified a human right issue such as accountability and efficacy in the management of public affairs by the citizens and prescribed interventions to address these human rights issues. In addition the project will support relevant ministries, departments and agencies of government and selected Local Government to engage with relevant civil society organizations, media, private sector and academic institutions to raise consciousness of the public to articulate their needs, defend their rights and demand for accountability and transparency in public affairs.	The project design and implementation of interventions shall purposefully target and benefit both women and men. Specific interventions targeted at improving gender equality and empowerment of women will be undertaken. For instance, the process to revise and formulate policies, regulations and strategic development plans will involve the consultation and participation of both women and men; and integrate gender concerns in the policies and regulations formulated. Further, the interventions aimed at strengthening gender responsive evidence based decision making in public sector will be undertaken. The project will also support interventions aimed at strengthening the MDAs capacities for gender responsive planning and budgeting.
Briefly describe in the space below how the Project is likely to improve gender equality and women's empowerment	The project design and implementation of interventions shall purposefully target and benefit both women and men. Briefly describe in the space below how the Project maintains environmental sustainability	UNDP Country Office Environmental Focal Point organized a training session for UNDP staff on environmental and social screening procedure. This provided the necessary skills to the Programme team to identify environmental issues related to the project. The draft project document was subjected to social and environmental screening procedure to identify if there any activities with potential adverse impact on the environment and prescribe mitigation measures.

SESP: Social and Environmental Risk Screening Checklist

Checklist Potential Social and Environmental Risks		Answer (Yes/No)
Principle 1: Human Rights
1.	Could the Project lead to adverse impacts on enjoyment of the human rights (civil, political, economic, social or cultural) of the affected population and particularly of marginalized groups?	No
2.	Is there a likelihood that the Project would have inequitable or discriminatory adverse impacts on affected populations, particularly people living in poverty or marginalized or excluded individuals or groups? ¹³	No
3.	Could the Project potentially restrict availability, quality of and access to resources or basic services, in particular to marginalized individuals or groups?	No
4.	Is there a likelihood that the Project would exclude any potentially affected stakeholders, in particular marginalized groups, from fully participating in decisions that may affect them?	No
5.	Is there a risk that duty-bearers do not have the capacity to meet their obligations in the Project?	No
6.	Is there a risk that rights-holders do not have the capacity to claim their rights?	No
7.	Have local communities or individuals, given the opportunity, raised human rights concerns regarding the Project during the stakeholder engagement process?	No
8.	Is there a risk that the Project would exacerbate conflicts among and/or the risk of violence to project-affected communities and individuals?	No
Principle 2: Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment
1.	Is there a likelihood that the proposed Project would have adverse impacts on gender equality and/or the situation of women and girls?	No
2.	Would the Project potentially reproduce discriminations against women based on gender, especially regarding participation in design and implementation or access to opportunities and benefits?	No
3.	Have women's groups/leaders raised gender equality concerns regarding the Project during the stakeholder engagement process and has this been included in the overall Project proposal and in the risk assessment?	No
4.	Would the Project potentially limit women's ability to use, develop and protect natural resources, taking into account different roles and positions of women and men in accessing environmental goods and services? For example, activities that could lead to natural resources degradation or depletion in communities who depend on these resources for their livelihoods and well being	No
Principle 3: Environmental Sustainability: Screening questions regarding environmental risks are encompassed by the specific Standard-related questions below
Standard 1: Biodiversity Conservation and Sustainable Natural Resource Management
1.1	Would the Project potentially cause adverse impacts to habitats (e.g. modified, natural, and critical habitats) and/or ecosystems and ecosystem services? For example, through habitat loss, conversion or degradation, fragmentation, hydrological changes	No
1.2	Are any Project activities proposed within or adjacent to critical habitats and/or environmentally sensitive areas, including legally protected areas (e.g. nature reserve, national park), areas proposed for protection, or recognized as such by authoritative sources and/or indigenous peoples or local communities?	No

¹³ Prohibited grounds of discrimination include race, ethnicity, gender, age, language, disability, sexual orientation, religion, political or other opinion, national or social or geographical origin, property, birth or other status including as an indigenous person or as a member of a minority. References to "women and men" or similar is understood to include women and men, boys and girls, and other groups discriminated against based on their gender identities, such as transgender people and transsexuals.

1.3	Does the Project involve changes to the use of lands and resources that may have adverse impacts on habitats, ecosystems, and/or livelihoods? (Note: if restrictions and/or limitations of access to lands would apply, refer to Standard 5)	No
1.4	Would Project activities pose risks to endangered species?	No
1.5	Would the Project pose a risk of introducing invasive alien species?	No
1.6	Does the Project involve harvesting of natural forests, plantation development, or reforestation?	No
1.7	Does the Project involve the production and/or harvesting of fish populations or other aquatic species?	No
1.8	Does the Project involve significant extraction, diversion or containment of surface or ground water? For example, construction of dams, reservoirs, river basin developments, groundwater extraction	No
1.9	Does the Project involve utilization of genetic resources? (e.g. collection and/or harvesting, commercial development)	No
1.10	Would the Project generate potential adverse transboundary or global environmental concerns?	No
1.11	Would the Project result in secondary or consequential development activities which could lead to adverse social and environmental effects, or would it generate cumulative impacts with other known existing or planned activities in the area? For example, a new road through forested lands will generate direct environmental and social impacts (e.g. felling of trees, earthworks, potential relocation of inhabitants). The new road may also facilitate encroachment on lands by illegal settlers or generate unplanned commercial development along the route, potentially in sensitive areas. These are indirect, secondary, or induced impacts that need to be considered. Also, if similar developments in the same forested area are planned, then cumulative impacts of multiple activities (even if not part of the same Project) need to be considered.	No
Standard 2: Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation
2.1	Will the proposed Project result in significant ¹⁴ greenhouse gas emissions or may exacerbate climate change?	No
2.2	Would the potential outcomes of the Project be sensitive or vulnerable to potential impacts of climate change?	No
2.3	Is the proposed Project likely to directly or indirectly increase social and environmental vulnerability to climate change now or in the future (also known as maladaptive practices)? For example, changes to land use planning may encourage further development of floodplains, potentially increasing the population's vulnerability to climate change, specifically flooding	No
Standard 3: Community Health, Safety and Working Conditions
3.1	Would elements of Project construction, operation, or decommissioning pose potential safety risks to local communities?	No
3.2	Would the Project pose potential risks to community health and safety due to the transport, storage, and use and/or disposal of hazardous or dangerous materials (e.g. explosives, fuel and other chemicals during construction and operation)?	No
3.3	Does the Project involve large-scale infrastructure development (e.g. dams, roads, buildings)?	No
3.4	Would failure of structural elements of the Project pose risks to communities? (e.g. collapse of buildings or infrastructure)	No
3.5	Would the proposed Project be susceptible to or lead to increased vulnerability to earthquakes, subsidence, landslides, erosion, flooding or extreme climatic conditions?	No
3.6	Would the Project result in potential increased health risks (e.g. from water-borne or other vector-borne diseases or communicable infections such as HIV/AIDS)?	No

¹⁴ In regards to CO₂, 'significant emissions' corresponds generally to more than 25,000 tons per year (from both direct and indirect sources). [The Guidance Note on Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation provides additional information on GHG emissions.]

3.7 Does the Project pose potential risks and vulnerabilities related to occupational health and safety due to physical, chemical, biological, and radiological hazards during Project construction, operation, or decommissioning?	No
3.8 Does the Project involve support for employment or livelihoods that may fail to comply with national and international labor standards (i.e. principles and standards of ILO fundamental conventions)?	No
3.9 Does the Project engage security personnel that may pose a potential risk to health and safety of communities and/or individuals (e.g. due to a lack of adequate training or accountability)?	No
Standard 4: Cultural Heritage
4.1 Will the proposed Project result in interventions that would potentially adversely impact sites, structures, or objects with historical, cultural, artistic, traditional or religious values or intangible forms of culture (e.g. knowledge, innovations, practices)? (Note: Projects intended to protect and conserve Cultural Heritage may also have inadvertent adverse impacts)	No
4.2 Does the Project propose utilizing tangible and/or intangible forms of cultural heritage for commercial or other purposes?	No
Standard 5: Displacement and Resettlement
5.1 Would the Project potentially involve temporary or permanent and full or partial physical displacement?	No
5.2 Would the Project possibly result in economic displacement (e.g. loss of assets or access to resources due to land acquisition or access restrictions – even in the absence of physical relocation)?	No
5.3 Is there a risk that the Project would lead to forced evictions? ¹⁵	No
5.4 Would the proposed Project possibly affect land tenure arrangements and/or community based property rights/customary rights to land, territories and/or resources?	No
Standard 6: Indigenous Peoples
6.1 Are indigenous peoples present in the Project area (including Project area of influence)?	No
6.2 Is it likely that the Project or portions of the Project will be located on lands and territories claimed by indigenous peoples?	No
6.3 Would the proposed Project potentially affect the human rights, lands, natural resources, territories, and traditional livelihoods of indigenous peoples (regardless of whether indigenous peoples possess the legal titles to such areas, whether the Project is located within or outside of the lands and territories inhabited by the affected peoples, or whether the indigenous peoples are recognized as indigenous peoples by the country in question)? If the answer to the screening question 6.3 is “yes” the potential risk impacts are considered potentially severe and/or critical and the Project would be categorized as either Moderate or High Risk.	No
6.4 Has there been an absence of culturally appropriate consultations carried out with the objective of achieving FPIC on matters that may affect the rights and interests, lands, resources, territories and traditional livelihoods of the indigenous peoples concerned?	No
6.5 Does the proposed Project involve the utilization and/or commercial development of natural resources on lands and territories claimed by indigenous peoples?	No

6.7 Would the Project adversely affect the development priorities of indigenous peoples as defined by them?	No

¹⁵Forced evictions include acts and/or omissions involving the coerced or involuntary displacement of individuals, groups, or communities from homes and/or lands and common property resources that were occupied or depended upon, thus eliminating the ability of an individual, group, or community to reside or work in a particular dwelling, residence, or location without the provision of, and access to, appropriate forms of legal or other protections.

6.8	Would the Project potentially affect the physical and cultural survival of indigenous peoples?	No
6.9	Would the Project potentially affect the Cultural Heritage of indigenous peoples, including through the commercialization or use of their traditional knowledge and practices?	No
Standard 7: Pollution Prevention and Resource Efficiency
7.1	Would the Project potentially result in the release of pollutants to the environment due to routine or non-routine circumstances with the potential for adverse local, regional, and/or transboundary impacts?	No
7.2	Would the proposed Project potentially result in the generation of waste (both hazardous and non-hazardous)?	No
7.3	Will the proposed Project potentially involve the manufacture, trade, release, and/or use of hazardous chemicals and/or materials? Does the Project propose use of chemicals or materials subject to international bans or phase-outs? For example, DDT, PCBs and other chemicals listed in international conventions such as the Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants or the Montreal Protocol	No
7.4	Will the proposed Project involve the application of pesticides that may have a negative effect on the environment or human health?	No
7.5	Does the Project include activities that require significant consumption of raw materials, energy, and/or water?	No

Project Board Terms of Reference and TORs of key management positions

Project Board

The Board will be responsible for making by consensus, management decisions for a project when guidance is required by the Project Manager, including recommendation for UNDP/Implementing Partner approval of project plans and revisions. In order to ensure UNDP's ultimate accountability, Project Board decisions will be made in accordance with standards that will ensure management for development results, best value money, fairness, integrity, transparency and effective international competition. In addition, the Project Board plays a critical role in UNDP commissioned project evaluations by quality assuring the evaluation process and products, and using evaluations for performance improvement, accountability and learning. Based on the approved annual work plan (A WP), the Project Board may review and approve project quarterly plans when required and authorizes any major deviation from these agreed quarterly plans. It will be the authority that signs off the completion of each quarterly plan as well as authorizes the start of the next quarterly plan.

Potential members of the Project Board will include:

Programme Director: individual representing the programme ownership to chair the group.

Development Partners: individuals or groups representing the interests of the parties concerned which provide funding and/or technical expertise to the project. Typically includes Implementing Partner, UNDP, and donors.

Beneficiary Representative: individuals or groups of individuals representing the interests of those who will ultimately benefit from the project. The primary function within the Board is to ensure the realization of project results from the perspective of project beneficiaries. Often CSO representative(s) can fulfil this role.

Project Assurance: Project Assurance is the responsibility of each Project Board member; however the role can be delegated. The project assurance role supports the Project Board by carrying out objective and independent project oversight and monitoring functions. This role ensures appropriate project management milestones are managed and completed. Project Assurance will be independent of the Project Manager; therefore, the Project Board cannot delegate any of its assurance responsibilities to the Project Manager. A UNDP Programme Officer, or M&E Officer, typically holds the Project Assurance role on behalf of UNDP.

Project Manager: The Project Manager has the authority to run the project on a day-to-day basis on behalf of the Implementing Partner within the constraints laid down by the Board. The Project Manager is responsible for day-to-day management and decision-making for the project. The Project Manager's prime responsibility is to ensure that the project produces the results (outputs) specified in the project document-, to the required standard of quality and within the specified constraints of time and cost. The Implementing Partner appoints the Project Manager, who should be different from the Implementing Partner's representative in the Outcome Board..

Project Support: The Project Support role provides project administration, management and technical support to the Project Manager as required by the needs of the individual project or Project Manager. It is necessary to keep Project Support and Project Assurance roles separate in order to maintain the independence of Project Assurance.

RATING CRITERIA

STRATEGIC

1. Does the project's Theory of Change specify how it will contribute to higher level change? (Select the option from 1-3 that best reflects the project):

- 3: The project has a theory of change with explicit assumptions and clear change pathway describing how the project will contribute to outcome level change as specified in the programme/CPD, backed by credible evidence of what works effectively in this context. The project document clearly describes why the project's strategy is the best approach at this point in time.

- 2: The project has a theory of change. It has an explicit change pathway that explains how the project intends to contribute to outcome-level change and why the project strategy is the best approach at this point in time, but is backed by limited evidence.
- 1: The project does not have a theory of change, but the project document may describe in generic terms how the project will contribute to development results, without specifying the key assumptions. It does not make an explicit link to the programme/CPD's theory of change.

*Note: Management Action or strong management justification must be given for a score of 1

2. Is the project aligned with the thematic focus of the UNDP Strategic Plan? (select the option from 1-3 that best reflects the project):
- 3: The project responds to one of the three areas of development work¹⁶ as specified in the Strategic Plan; it addresses at least one of the proposed new and emerging areas¹⁷; an issues-based analysis has been incorporated into the project design; and the project's RRF includes all the relevant SP output indicators. (all must be true to select this option)

- 2: The project responds to one of the three areas of development work¹⁶ as specified in the Strategic Plan. The project's RRF includes at least one SP output indicator, if relevant. (both must be true to select this option)
- 1: While the project may respond to one of the three areas of development work¹⁶ as specified in the Strategic Plan, it is based on a sectoral approach without addressing the complexity of the development issue. None of the relevant SP indicators are included in the RRF. This answer is also selected if the project does not respond to any of the three areas of development work in the Strategic Plan.
